

ZEF – the Center for Development Research of the University of Bonn (Germany) – is one of the project partners in the WISDOM project. The WISDOM project, funded by the German Federal Ministry for Education and Research (BMBF), is an interdisciplinary German-Vietnamese research cooperation that aims at the design and implementation of a Water-related Information System for the Sustainable Development of the Mekong Delta. Within the project, ZEF looks at water resources planning and development and knowledge management from a social science perspective. Most of the studies are based on empirical research. Current research activities focus on water quality management, industrialisation, water and health & local practices of water resources management.
